A CUTTING DOWN OF SCHOOL FUND.

How It Affects The Daytona City
School and Schools of Volusia
County.

SOME FACTS AND SOME FIGURES.

The recent decision of the Florida Supreme Court is far-reaching in its effects; it not only hits the populous districts, the city schools and the high schools, but it is comprehensive and effects the rural districts to the remotest corners.

Superintendent Holloway is quoted as saying that it puts the schools back on a par with those of a decade ago. There is already due the teachers of the State $167,756 under the 80 per cent. act, and the high school act. In addition, there is also due them the $50,000, which should have been appropriated by the Comptroller on the first of January, 1908, if at that time there had been money in the treasury for that purpose. The aggregate amount, therefore, due the schools on the first of July, 1908, was $227,756.

This large amount is lost to the schools, together with $165,000, which would have accrued by the first of July, 1909.

The law establishing a system of high schools was enacted in 1903, and the other acts coming under the decision of the court, were passed in 1905.

While it seems from this decision that the State is not able to appropriate any money to the schools, there may be made a county levy of seven mills for school purposes, and in addition to this, a levy of three mills may be assessed in the special tax school districts, and under this arrangement it is possible for the schools to be kept up to their present standard without the aid given them under Chapters 5381 and 5657, but the abolishment of the high school system is the most serious blow to public education in many years.

It may require a Constitutional amendment to remedy the objection pointed out in the decision handed down by the Supreme Court.

If this recourse is taken it will be necessary for the legislature to enact a law providing that each county shall maintain one high school to be supported entirely out of the county school funds. This plan, however, would be far inferior to the state system, since there would be no uniformity of standard in the operation of such schools.

A Daily News' representative hunted up Superintendent Wright of the Daytona High School to see what figure the handing down of the recent decision cut locally. Prof. Wright, while he deplored the court decision, seemed little perturbed. He said as it stands it would shorten the term of the Daytona school nearly a month, but he thinks the legislature at its present sitting will come to the rescue of the school and right the matter up and if possible go the old schedule of appropriations one better, as well as to give some wholesome legislation looking toward better schools.

The Daytona High School has a resource that would be used to augment the funds. It is this: A tuition fee of $4 per month would be charged for pupils not listed in the school district. As there are a goodly number of such pupils this would materially augment the funds.

Chairman Geo. F. Crouch of the Volusia County School Board was interrogated and he says the loss to Volusia county will be about $12,000, but that Volusia being in fine financial shape will carry on her schools. He says that sub-districts that have funds on hand will carry on the two months' extra time regardless of Supreme Court decisions.

What sub-districts have not the funds available the deficit will be made up by the county board, the funds to be turned back to the county when funds come in through taxes.

Volusia county, from the fact of its being in good shape financially, will not suffer as those counties will which have no school funds on hand. Many of those counties will be compelled to close their schools, indeed some are now doing so.

E. Morris and niece, Miss Ellen Williams, and her friend, Miss Mary Finchett, all of Toronto, Canada, arrived Saturday, and are located for the season with J. L. Lynch, on Fairview avenue.

Mrs. Jacob Reese and aunt, Miss Rindlaub, of Sharon Hill, a suburb of Philadelphia, arrived Thursday night and are occupying Mrs. Reese's winter residence on South Palmist avenue.

S. H. Gove's new shop on Volusia avenue, on which work was commenced a week ago Saturday, was completed, even to the locking of the doors, Saturday afternoon. The building, which is somewhat larger than the one burned, makes a much better appearance than the old one.

NOW DAYTONA BEACH, IF YOU PLEASE.

The Wires Are Now Flashing It
"Daytona Beach" Around
The World.

HOW TO REACH DAYTONA BEACH.

The uncertainty as to the fate of the Seventh Annual Florida Beach races has now been turned into an almost positive certainty that they will be given on the famous fast sand course as usual, the dates being March 22 to 25 next. It seems that the Florida East Coast railway and hotel system was not in favor of subscribing to the fund to perpetuate the races this winter, so it was left to the enterprising little city of Daytona to say whether the races should lapse this year or not. Daytona said no, and it said no most emphatically, providing the tournament should be given on Daytona Beach, where the fast world records have been made in recent years.

To that end Fred Dutton Stidham, a Brown college man and relative of Senator W. J. Morgan, was despatched to Daytona to co-operate with the committee that had wired Mr. Morgan to come to Daytona to take charge of the raising of funds for the seventh annual meet. Mr. Morgan could not leave New York, so he drafted Mr. Stidham, who soon arrived in Daytona and was met enthusiastically by the Florida East Coast Automobile association officials, and, under the pilotage of President Major Arthur B. Foster, Dr. E. L. Potter, Edward White, chairman of the committee; W. H. Peters, E. D. W. Rose and Colonel Bingham made such good progress that most of the $4000 asked for was soon assured by citizens of Daytona and winter residents thereof.

There will be radical changes in the conduct of the races in March. One of the great events will be a sweepstake price stock car race, the cars being handicapped according to price and not engine power. This will give the public a good idea as to what is at a certain price. The Sir Thomas Dewar $2,000 trophy for the international mile race will be given outright. There will be several thousand dollars in cash prizes hung up for fast cars, and as the Grand Prix race of France will not be held this year no special race will be put on for foreign cars which comply with the international rules unless a goodly entry is assured; therefore the races will be open to all cars no matter what the engine power may be.

There will be one special race, however, open to all competitors in past Vanderbilt cup races, for which a goodly cash prize will be offered. The stock car event will possibly go over a part beach and part road course, crossing two bridges, and it is thought that the average of 52.54 miles per hour made by the winning stock car at Savannah, will be beaten at Daytona, as it is thought that a speed of sixty miles an hour will easily be made by such a car as the Lancia.

One of the big races will be that for the Minneapolis trophy, which was won last year by the Fiat, the late Manue Cedrino driving. This trophy must be won twice, so that if the Fiat wins it again, it will become the property of Fiat Automobile Company. This will be a two-mile-a-minute speed crown similar to the one captured by Victor Demogeot, the great French driver, who in 1906 hurled his Darracq racer over the two-mile stretch in 58.45 seconds. Cars in this race must equal two miles a minute to win. Of course this speed is only possible on the far-famed beach on the East Coast of Florida.

One of the principal causes of complaint in regard to the Florida race meet has been removed, and that was the high freight rate charges on the railroads from New York to Ormond and Daytona. The Florida East Coast Automobile Association has advised that all automobiles be shipped by water, either to Savannah or Jacksonville, and from the latter point, also by water to DeLand via the Clyde Line. DeLand is only twenty-five miles from Daytona and the County Commissioners of Volusia County have put the twenty-five miles of road between the two points in splendid condition, so that automobiles can be sent by boat direct to DeLand, and thence driven to Daytona. This will more than cut the freight rate in two, and if automobiles are shipped to Savannah, they can be driven over the road from Savannah to Daytona, although the road is poor for nearly the entire distance, which is about 170 miles. Such a trip, however, will prove interesting, and help to build up the good roads movement, which is now strong in Georgia and Florida.

Just as soon as the committee at Daytona have finished their work of raising the funds entry blanks, with a complete list of events, will be gotten out by W. J. Morgan, Thoroughfare Building, Broadway and 57th Street, New York City.

BIRD LIFE TO BE PROTECTED.

Noticeable Increase of Aquatic Bird
Life as Result of Warden's
Vigilance.

THE BIRDS ARE BECOMING TAME.

The department of agriculture at Washington through Captain Pacetti has recently placed five large signs at prominent points on Mosquito Inlet reservation. The signs are about five by seven feet, supported by four posts and firmly braced. One is at Hawks park, one opposite the Ocean house, New Smyrna; one at Mosquito inlet, one at Live Oak point and one at Little Pelican island north of Port Orange, all being near the main channel of the Halifax and Hillsboro rivers. The reservation was created as a preserve and breeding ground for native aquatic birds. Already a very marked increase in bird life is apparent in the colonies of pelicans, gulls and terns about the inlet. White cranes, blue herons, gannets and wood ibis are increasing in numbers and show less fear than formerly. Request having been made of the warden as to whether ducks could be killed on the reservation he communicated with the department for advice on this subject and has been instructed to permit no shooting whatever on the reservation and to cause the arrest of anyone found using fire arms within its limits.

There are now twenty-three national reservations in the United States for the protection of birds, nine of which were formed the past year. These nine are at Tortugas Keys and Key West, Florida; Mosquito inlet, east coast of Florida; Lower Klamath lake, Oregon; Chase lake, Dakota; Pine Island, Mat-lahtha pass and Palma Sola, Florida. The twenty-three reservations are in charge of forty-nine wardens whose duty is to guard the colonies of birds upon them.

Through the means of these reservations the particular value of bird refuges has been demonstrated and must appeal to all enlightened citizens and true sportsmen who wish to see the birds saved from utter extinction. The most numerous species in the colonies on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts are herons and laughing gulls, brown pelicans and terns. Upon the interior reservations are ducks, white pelicans, grebes and gulls, and on the Pacific coast, cormorants, puffins, murres, gulls and petrels.

It is probable that a deputy warden will be appointed at Port Orange or New Smyrna. The new reservation in charge of Captain B. J. Pacetti. No trespassing is allowed nor firearms permitted on the Mosquito Inlet Reservation. It may be well to publish here-with Public Act No. 314, "An Act to protect birds and their eggs in game and bird preserves."

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled that it shall be unlawful for any person to hunt, trap, capture, willfully disturb, or kill any bird of any kind whatever, or take the eggs of such birds on any lands of the United States which have been set apart or reserved for breeding grounds for birds by any law, proclamation or executive order, except under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of Agriculture."

The second section of this Act prescribes the fine which may be imposed for violation. It may be $500 and six months imprisonment, and was approved by Theodore Roosevelt June 28, 1906.
